Client Command Honored as a Best Place to Work by Atlanta Business Chronicle

Client Command, the automotive marketing leader in turning active shoppers™ into real customers, was recognized today as a best place to work in Atlanta by the Atlanta Business Chronicle. Winning companies were recognized this morning at an awards breakfast put on by the Atlanta Business Chronicle to honor the elite group of 100 companies in the Atlanta Metro area recognized.

The award is based on the results of a survey by the companies own employees, covering everything from overall treatment of employees to satisfaction with their work environment and level of creativity, among other areas.

“While we’ve been honored with a number of awards this year, this is by far the one that holds the most meaning for me personally,” said Jonathan Lucenay, CEO of Client Command. “To be recognized by our own employees as a best place to work makes me proud of our entire organization.”

Since 2014, Client Command has experienced tremendous success, with revenue gains of more than 45%, a staff that has more than quadrupled in size in the past two years, and the need to increase their office space from 4,800 sq. ft. to 13,200 sq. ft. to accommodate their new employees. In addition to their substantial growth, the company has also amassed a long list of accolades, capped by being named to the Inc 5000 Fastest Growing Companies list in 2016.

“Every aspect of the Client Command family is driven by fostering excellence in what they do and who they are. Though Client Command provides many tangible incentives for their team members, the qualities that drive employee loyalty and satisfaction go much deeper. Client Command is a "Best Place to Work" because at every level, they have demonstrated an unwavering dedication to each employee to pursue success not only in the workplace, but in life,” said Amy Srch, Senior Data Specialist.
