

Client Command® Named One of the Best Places to Work in Atlanta

The company's investment in people receives third culture award in 12 months

ATLANTA, GA – September 5, 2019 – Client Command, known as an industry-disrupting automotive marketing company that leverages AI-powered, patented technology to engage active shoppers and drive value for customers, continues to garner recognition for the value it adds to its people. The company claimed the 19th spot in the medium-sized company category of the Atlanta Business Chronicle's 16th annual Best Places to Work awards.

This award marks the third time Client Command has been recognized as a leading company culture in Atlanta this year – being named to the Atlanta Journal Constitution Top Workplaces award, Atlanta's Best & Brightest Company to Work For award and Atlanta Pacesetter award.

“At Client Command, people are at the center of our business and living out our values is the foundation of our company,” said Jonathan Lucenay, Founder and CEO of Client Command. “In a city bursting with the talent Atlanta has, we are honored to be recognized by other thought leaders for the growth and innovation that helps our employees reach their potential. We strive to offer the same industry-leading return on investment for our employees that our employees deliver for our customers.”

Client Command's industry-leading benefits for employees, including a significant annual investment in personal and professional development. These efforts include learning programs for employees, company-wide incentives and celebrations of successful company goals, an employee-led service trip to a non-profit organization in Haiti, an employee coaching/development program, company social events, internal engagement-centered contests and a year-long leadership program, among other benefits.

Client Command provides automotive dealers with cutting edge marketing solutions that leverage patented, AI powered technology to deliver the most advanced shopper identification and marketing activation in the industry. This is the second year Client Command has been recognized on the Atlanta Business Chronicle's Best Places to Work awards.
